THE DYING PREMIER.

HIS CONDITION ON SUNDAY AND TO-DAY.

Still Hanging Between Life and Death—The Last Bulletin Reports Him Somewhat Easier—The Doctors Entertain No Hope of His Recovery.

OTTAWA, May 31, 11 a. m.—At our consultation at 11 this a.m., we find the Premier's heart's action and respiration as satisfactory as can be expected under the circumstances. His physical strength remains as it was last evening, and we are of the opinion that his symptoms indicate that brain lesion remains unaltered; notwithstanding the severity of the attack, he still exhibits wonderful vitality.

W. POWELL, M.D.
J. A. GRANT, M.D.

EARNSCLIFFE, 3:30 p.m.—Premier no worse this afternoon, somnolent not comatose, no worse since morning though speechless.

3 P.M.—I find nothing new to report in the Premier's condition at this hour. He has just partaken of some nourishment, which he swallowed more easily than usual. He has composed himself since in a comfortable position and is now dozing. (Sg'd) W. POWELL, M.D.

10:40 A.M.—A close examination of Sir John at our consultation this morning reveals an unmistakable lowering of the vital forces, notwithstanding that he has slept from time to time during the night and has taken nourishment; consciousness still remains and he suffers no pain.

(Signed) R. W. POWELL, M.D.
J. A. GRANT, M.D.
HY. P. WRIGHT, M.D.

2 P. M.—Very little change in Sir John. In weak condition but conscious.

4:50 p.m.—Sir John's condition very low. No hope.

5 p.m.—Sir John is somewhat easier, and is sleeping quietly now.

6 p.m.—Since my statement of 3 p.m. to the Senate and the House of Commons, my patient shows no change whatever. He partook of some milk at 5:45, which he swallowed without much difficulty.

From Alaska.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 1.—The schooner John Hancock, Capt. Chipman, has arrived, seventeen days from Sandpoint, Alaska, with codfish. She brought as a passenger Capt. Gaffney, of the wrecked schooner Dashing Wave. Capt. Chipman brings information that the schooner Premier, reported as wrecked, sailed from Sand Point on May 13, but had to return, as she was leaking badly. The catch of Alaska sealing schooners as spoken by the Hancock, were: Herman, 31 otter skins; Alexander, 18; Helen Blum, 28.

NANAIMO NEWS.

Confirmation at St. Paul's—Sharp Practise at Horse Racing, Etc.

The confirmation of eleven ladies and six gentlemen took place during the evening service at St. Pauls Church last evening, by the Bishop of Columbia. Both ladies and gentlemen had attended the classes of the Rev. J. B. Good and E. G. Miller, during the past few weeks, so that they were deemed competent to release their godparents from the promises they had made in their behalf, by assuming them themselves. The church was packed to excess, by those who were anxious to witness the interesting proceedings. The eloquent address by the Bishop, created a strong impression upon his hearers, which will be remembered by some for the remainder of their lives. The morning and evening sermons were delivered by the Bishop.

TAKEN OFF THE ROUTE.

Captain Glaholm's steamer Emma has been taken off the Nanaimo and Victoria route, in order to make room for a larger steamer which is being negotiated for. The Emma will now be used for towing purposes in Nanaimo harbor, and will be quite an acquisition to shipowners, as whenever a vessel is required to move, the captains are compelled to await two or three days for the arrival of a tug to shift them. Captain Glaholm states a good steamer of larger dimensions would pay well on the Victoria and Nanaimo route so in all probability a few weeks will witness one or two large vessels plying between here and Victoria.

THE JOCKEY WAS BRIBED.

The race on Saturday between Kilpatrick's Dan and G. Rudge's Maud (of Victoria) was won by the latter in two straight heats. In the first heat Maud was ridden by F. Hague, and it was observed by the owner of Maud that the rider was trying to pull the mare, so as soon as the first heat was over, he got another boy to ride her. Hague then became somewhat chagrined and openly admitted he did not want Maud to win, as he had been promised $20 if he could hold the mare in so that she would lose the race. If what Hague states is true, then it is quite time that horse racing was put a stop to in this city

LITTLE HAPPENINGS.

The telephone service is very efficient and now numbers 98 instruments. Vancouver will not be connected with Nanaimo until next year.

Martin, the sprinter, is said by the doctors to be out of danger and favorable hopes are entertained for his recovery.

A most brutal fight took place last evening at the back of one of the saloons in the city, and no effort was made to part the men till one of them was knocked senseless.

It is definitely stated there will be no dancing at the Y.M.C.A. picnic which is to be given on the "Green" next Thursday.

A salmon weighing 50 lbs., was caught in the harbor this morning, being the largest one ever captured here.

The steamer West Indian landed 300 sheep here yesterday for the local market.

NOBLEMEN IN COURT.

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE ATTEND THE BACCARAT TRIAL.

Public Feeling in Favor of Sir William Gordon Cumming—The Queen's Interest in the Trial—The Poorer Classes Chuckle Over the Case, Etc.

LONDON, June 1.—All interest centres to-day in the Baccarat trial. The crowds at the court entrance are such as to require an extra force of policemen, and even those who have cards of admission have found it difficult to find their way. Not since the Tichborne trial has such a number of aristocratic turnouts been seen in the vicinity of the court, and gaping throngs stand about gazing at the armoral crests, and wondering what share of the scandal each particular owner has a hand in. There is a noticeable prevalence of good humor among the lower classes, who are watching and waiting. They chuckle over the situation as a grand expose of the misdoings of the nobility, and something that therefore should bring joy to the people. There is not the deep, intense feeling that showed itself at the time of the Pall Mall Gazette exposures. The people seem to see an element of satire in this affair, and they enjoy it accordingly. So far the police have pretty well succeeded in shielding from the vulgar gaze the aristocratic beauties who gathered on that memorable night at Branby Croft, and in one or two instances clubs were used on those who were anxious to peep. Sir William Gordon-Cummings made no efforts to conceal himself, and it was easy to see that the popular sympathy was on his side. He is a manly looking fellow, every inch the Scotch nobleman of ancient lienage, and one of the last that would be suspected of sharp practice at cards. At this hour it is understood that the Prince of Wales will not be called as a witness, but that he will probably be allowed to testify on his honor. It is said that Queen Victoria is deeply interested in the case, and that a summary of the proceedings is to be telegraphed each day to Balmoral. It is also well understood that the Queen's sympathy is decidedly with the Prince of Wales, and the defence in the case. Indeed, the odds against Sir William are so very great that that very fact has caused a public feeling in his favor.

THE MOUNT SNOWDEN TRAGEDY.

The condition of Mrs. Duncan, whose American husband attempted to kill her near Mount Snowden, is again becoming serious, and apprehensions are entertained that her injuries may yet prove fatal. In that event the charge against Duncan would be changed from attempted murder to murder. In any case the defence will be insanity, of which it is said Duncan's American friends will furnish evidence. In England, however, if in event of the motive for a crime being proved, the defence of insanity seldom prevails, unless the circumstances of the crime are such as to excite the sympathy of the jury.

HER NAVAL DEFENCES.

England is rapidly developing an effective system of naval defence. Hereafter every important seaport is to have what might be called a naval garrison. In accordance with recent regulations a warship is to be assigned to every port of consequence.

INFLUENZA IN THE ARMY.

Count Waldersee is reported to be ill with influenza to such an extent as to disable him from duty. The influenza has taken a stout hold of the troops as well as officers at Altoona, and in Berlin the sick list is unusually large.

FATAL RUNAWAY.

A terrible accident is reported from Berlin. The horses attached to a stone cart got frightened at something, and broke away in Humboldt grove. The terrified animals dashed through a group of children who were out enjoying themselves. The little ones did not all see the runaway until the horses were among them, crushing and trampling them under their feet. Three children were killed and several severely injured.

WILL BREAK FROM DEPENDENCY.

The British Government is stirred by another trouble in South Africa. The colony of Natal, on which it is proposed to confer self-government by a bill now under consideration, is said to be strongly imbued with republican sentiments, and more than likely if it obtains a practically independent system of government, to join hands with the Transvaal, instead of being a dependency of the Cape.

THE CASE OPENED.

The cause celebre in the case of Sir William Gordon-Cummings vs. Wilson and others, but better known to the general public as the "baccarat case," to-day came up for trial before Lord Chief Justice Coleridge and a special jury in the Royal Court. When the court opened it was crowded to excess by the ultra fashionables of London. The plaintiff entered the room promptly and took a seat by the side of the Attorney-General, who is to conduct the case, and shortly afterwards was followed by the Prince of Wales, accompanied by his equerry, Sir Francis Knowlles. In opening the trial Lord Chief Justice Coleridge stated it was his desire that His Royal Highness should be kept in the court room as little as possible. The Solicitor-General in reply said that while it was not possible at the present stage of the proceedings to say exactly when the Prince would be called, it was the desire of the prosecution to consult his convenience as much as possible. The Lord Chief Justice then said he also wished it remembered that the Prince was not there as a spectator. Sir Edward Clark, in opening, said the charge of libel was one which involved the honor of his client and affected his whole future career, which had hitherto been one of repute. His client was a gentleman who has served his country with distinction for a period extending over 23 years. He was a soldier who had reached the rank of lieuteuant-colonel in one of Great Britain's most famous corps, the Scotch Guards, and he was an officer who had won his medals for gallantry at Tel-El-Keber. He was a man, too, of independent wealth, who, for twenty years had been received and honored in the best society, and who was an intimate friend of the Prince of Wales, whose guest he had several times been at Sandringham. This, continued the Attorney-General is the man who stands before the public, charged with cheating at cards, and so cheating with the object of defrauding some of his most intimate friends. The distinguished counsel minutely detailed the circumstances attending the baccarat party at Mrs. Wilson's residence, at Doncaster, where the offence was charged against Sir William Gordon-Cummings is alleged to have been committed. Sir Edward also described the condition under which the game was played.

He was a native of England where he first entered the ministry, but he spent most of his time in the churches of Ontario and Quebec. The Legal Confounder of Truth.

The one person who never finds his occupation gone is the lawyer, nosing about for a technicality whereby the intent of a law may be defeated, justice defrauded and the rights of the individual or the community disregarded. Whether he employs his peculiar talent in turning a large estate from the intent of the testator through some slight informality in a will; bends his energies to the task of proving that a woman is not a person in the meaning of the law, or rising to the height of his power in aiding a conscienceless dairyman to sell fevered milk to customers through the inadvertent omission of a word in the law providing a penalty for such conduct, the technical lawyer is the same subtle confounder of fraud. He and his kind constitute the supply that the demand of men who profit by violation of the spirit of the law while they comply with its letter creates. The supply is abundant, the demand responsive, and the result is a perversion of law, the fruit of which is seen in wrangling heirs shamelessly dragging names before the world as representing insane, purchasable, weak-minded or unjust fathers; in children poisoned by impure food and made old before their time by close confinement in unwholesome shops and factories; in the scattered substance of orphans and in lawless executions—the last resort of an outraged sense of justice in long-suffering communities.

Next in infamy to doctors who juggle with human life through the mischievous skill of of ignorance, come lawyers who juggle with human rights through the subtle skill of misdirected knowledge. No man, however fortunate or wary, can hope to pass through life free from the machinations of one or both of these hangers on to the skirts (would we might say the outskirts) of honorable professions.

"That tired feel is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives a feeling of buoyancy and strength to the whole system.

CHIEF JUSTICE DORION DEAD.

Another of Canada's Old Leaders Passes Over the Great Divide.

MONTREAL, May 31.—Chief Justice Dorion died this morning.

Sir Antoine Aime Dorion was born in Ste. Anne de la Perade, Quebec, Jan. 17, 1818. He was educated at Nicolet college, studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1842. He represented Montreal in the Canadian Assembly from 1854 to 1861, and the following year was returned for Hochelaga, which constituency he represented till 1867. He represented the same county in the Commons after confederation till 1862, when he was returned for Napierville, which he represented till 1874. He declined a seat in the Canadian cabinet in 1859, but was a minister of the Executive Council several times, holding at different times the portfolios of Commissioner of Crown Lands, 1858; Provincial Secretary, from 1862 to 1863, and Attorney-General and leader of the Government (with John Sanfield Macdonald as Premier) from May, 1863, to March, 1864, when the administration retired from office. He was sworn in as a member of the Privy Council November 7, 1873, and was Minister of Justice from that date until his appointment in June, 1874, as Chief Justice of the Province of Quebec, which position he held up to his death. He was administrator of the Province of Quebec in December, 1876, during the last illness of Lieut.-Governor Caron. Sir Antoine was a leader of the Rouge, or French Canadian Liberal party of Quebec, from his entrance into political life until his retirement. He occupied a distinguished position at the bar, and was knighted in 1877. His father, P.A. Dorion, represented Chamblain in the Assembly of Lower Canada from 1830 till 1838, and his two brothers were at different times members of the Canadian Assembly and House of Commons.

THE WELLINGTON WAR.

The Returns Asked for by Mr. Gordon—C. J. Holmes' Opinion—Strong Protests.

OTTAWA, May 23.—A return was laid on the table of the House to-day, giving the papers in the matter of calling out the militia in August last to oppose the strikers at the Wellington mines, Vancouver Island. D. W. Gordon, M. P., telegraphed to the minister:—"On whose representation has detachment of C Battery been sent to Wellington? Neither invasion, insurrection nor imminent danger of either. People have obeyed orders of court without murmer. Sending militia is an insult to this district, calculated to provoke trouble. Order their return to Victoria at once." On August 19th Messrs. Ward, Harris and Morrison, justices of the peace, telegraphed for permission to retain the troops for a few days longer, as illegal processions continued daily at Wellington. Col. Holmes, D.A.G., at Victoria, would only consent to this if a justice of the peace were present. Mr. Gordon, the member of Nanaimo, wrote under date of August 25th, 1890, to "My dear Caron," complaining that both governments denying their responsibility for the "outrage" made them both the subjects of "ridicule and contempt." "The question is asked" he continued, "if a truimvirate of scoundrels, living at a distance of 80 miles from the scene, can usurp the functions of Dominion and Local Goverments and send troops to overawe some miners who had seen fit in the exercise of their rights to decline to work for a company on terms which they considered exposed them to danger and discrimination." He protested against the Dominion paying any of the expenses connected with the troops "because if you pay for those services the Provincial Government will throw the odium on your Government. There is no act your Government could do more unjust or unpopular than to pay one cent of those expenses. You might notify the Provincial authorities that they or the Wellington Coal Company must pay the expenses." On August 16, Col. Homes telegraphed the department: "Magistrates will not act with me at Wellington or give orders for return of men. I do not consider it necessary for them to remain. Please sanction withdrawal." In reply the Adjutant-General wired: "I cannot advise you without knowing circumstances or purposes for which called out." The report sent by Col. Homes, dated Sept. 15, 1890, shows that the Attorney-General of British Columbia suggested and advised the calling out of the troops at Wellington. During the two weeks' stay of the troops he found everything "quiet." At the date of the report the force had been reduced to one staff sergeant and four gunners. The Adjutant-General's memo. on this report states that in his opinion the law should be amended so as to make it imperative that magistrates who sign the requisition for the troops should be residents of the municipality, responsible for the expenses incurred, and one of them should go with the force to the scene of trouble and remain there, and that the pay of the troops should be two dollars a day instead of one dollar, now allowed by law. He thought the force should not have proceeded without the magistrates. The Adjutant-General requested in October consideration of the whole subject and a decision for the guidance of militia officers in the future. It was not until Dec. 1 that Col. Homes withdrew the troops.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

THE 24TH AT UNION.

Celebration of the Queen's Birthday—Picnic and Sports—Grounds Lit by Electricity.

On Saturday, the 23rd, the good people of Union celebrated Her Majesty's birthday, by holding their first annual picnic and sports. For the purpose of providing funds for the sports, a subscription list was opened the week previous, headed by a handsome donation of $100 from the Union Colliery Company. By the end of the week the amount collected reached the nice sum of $300. The arrangements for the sports, etc., were left in the hands of the following gentlemen: Dr. Young, and Messrs. J. B. McLean, J. V. Nicholls, Wm. Bald, Alex. Grant and G. T. Parkes. The platform committee consisted of Messrs. Bruce, Gray and Anderson. Hon. secretary, Mr. W. H. Campbell. The train arrangements were under the care of Messrs. Alfred Walker, D. O'Hanley, A. McKnight and Wm. Mitchell. The place chosen for the day's amusement was a piece of ground, especially cleared by the company, close to the lake, some two miles from Union. A large dancing platform, 30x50 feet, with band stand attached, was erected near the boathouse, and the lumber necessary for the erection of the stand was given by the company, who did everything possible to make the day a success. The boathouse was fitted up as a refreshment bar by Mr. Samuel Davis, of the Union Hotel. On the opposite side of the platform a large tent was erected by Mr. A. Lindsay, who retailed temperance drinks, candies, oranges, etc., to the visitors. Above the platform the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes floated side by side, showing the good feelings existing between the people of both countries. Special trains were run by the company, conveying the passengers to and from the Lake, and everything was done to add to the comfort and convenience of those attending the sports. By 11 a.m. the grounds were filled with people anxious to enjoy themselves. The view from the platform was magnificent. The lake lay in front, a calm yet beautiful sheet of water, some ten miles in length, with the mountains rising to an immense height on either side, whilst away in the background the great glacier towered above all, its snowy cap sparkling in the sunlight, a scene not readily forgotten. At 11:30 the Union Choral Society under the leadership of Mr. J. B. McLean, ascended the platform and sang the National Anthem, the assemblage joining heartily in the same, after which the sports were declared open by Dr. Young. The following is the programme carried out:

The sports passed off nicely, and soon after 4 o'clock dancing was commenced, music being supplied by the Italian Quadrille Band, the Roy Brothers (violinists), and Mr. McGregor, piper, of Comox, attired in Highland costume, supplied music during the day. In the evening the bagpipes platform, band stand and grounds were lit by the electric light, twelve splendid lamps being used. They are the property of the company and were very kindly lent for the occasion. Considerable credit is due to the energetic committee for the splendid arrangements made and for the success of the day. Dancing was indulged in till 11 p.m., when the trains conveyed the people to their homes, everyone heartily satisfied with the day's enjoyment.

Smith Replies to Tupper.

Professor Goldwin Smith has a brief letter in the Times to-day on Tupper's article in the Contemporary Review, specially dealing with the charge of the Conservatives that at the last election the Liberals formed a conspiracy to subvert British institutions in Canada and to annex the Dominion to the United States. Smith shows that Sir John Macdonald at Ottawa has not dared to say one syllable on the subject. The charge, he says, is a figment constructed out of materials supplied by reptile agenies for election purposes, and is now discarded. The Canadian Liberals are fighting, he says, not only against protection, but against Government by corruption.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK!
STOP IT NOW,
SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up unless, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the DR. RIGGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

WHITE ROCK, B. C.

This Townsite is situated on Semiahmoo Bay, and is the only deep water seaport between the International Bounday Line and Vancouver, B.C. It will probably be the Mainland starting-point of the Victoria, Saanich & New Westminster Railway. It is now the outlet for the finest agricultural district in British Columbia.

The C.P.R. has made a survey of a line from Vancouver direct to this point. The Royal City Planing Mills Company has built a substantial wharf here, and has established a lumber yard, which supplies the farmers of this district. A handsome Hotel has been erected and building is going on rapidly. Several influential and far-sighted orporations have acquired large tracts of land surrounding this Townsite.

SUITS TO ORDER

CHEAPER THAN EVER.

Since the formation of a union amongst the tailors in Victoria prices for clothing have advanced to such an extent that people are sending East for their suits. And we don't blame them, either, if they can save from $10 to $20 a suit. We pay union prices simply because we have to; not that we consider it right.

We were paying our men the same wages before union prices were enforced that we paid them ten years ago, when we received from ten to twenty per cent. more for our suits.

We have from ten to fifteen thousand dollars invested in tailoring, and we propose to turn it over at least twice a year, regardless of profits. To do this we will make suits cheaper than we did before we paid high prices for making up. Good Tweed and Serge Suits, $25.

Irish Tweeds, $27, $28, $30 and $32. If any other tailor in town will prove that these goods are not genuine Irish Tweeds we will donate a Thousand Dollars to any charitable institution that he may name.

Black worsted suits $40. You will get the same goods for $48 or $50 elsewhere. We intend to make a specialty of tweed suits for $30; regular price is $35 to $40. We have the store for our other business; it costs us nothing for the tailoring department; we have the stock; we have a first-class cutter, and we have capital enough to run it if we don't make a cent. So now is the time to get cheap suits to order.

We are going through the stock marking everything down. Don't take everything for granted. See our new schedule of prices.

THE WELLINGTON CAMPAIGN.

In another column will be found some interesting reading anent the dark and mysterious history of the Wellington campaign. Col. HOLMES, in his report of military operations against the miners last June, makes it appear that the Government "suggested and advised the calling out of troops at Wellington." Colonel HOLMES does not, indeed, use the word Government, but that of the Attorney-General of British Columbia. It must not be understood, however, that the Attorney-General of British Columbia "suggested and advised" the calling out of troops without the concurrence of his confreres. What is the situation, then? The situation is, Col. HOLMES being the witness, that the Government's disclaimer of responsibility as to the Wellington affair was a deliberate falsehood, and that the "justices three" who signed the requisition for troops were cat's-paws.

Aug. 26 Col. HOLMES telegraphed the department: "Magistrates will not act with me at Wellington, or give orders for the return of the men. I do not consider it necessary for them to remain." It should seem from this that though Victoria magistrates ordered troops to Wellington they left it to Wellington magistrates to order them home, which the Wellington authorities very properly refused to do, not being responsible for the presence of troops at Wellington. Further, it is not a little remarkable that Colonel HOLMES advising the withdrawal of the troops, the local Government failed to act in the matter. Col. HOLMES' opinion ought to have had weight with the James Bay Government. The situation is simply this: The James Bay Government called out the troops, but that it should not appear responsible for the act left it with the Dominion Government to order their recall. The subterfuge is very thin, indeed. The Province owes Mr. GORDON a vote of thanks for dragging to the surface this bit of submerged history.

EARLE, PRIOR AND FRANCHISE.

The Toronto Mail says: "The Franchise Act has cost the country up to date about $725,000, and it has been estimated that every revision entails upon each of the 215 constituencies an expense of $1500. If we reduce the latter figure to $1000 we have a total expenditure of $215,000, which, added to the former amount, makes the total cost of the Act to Canadians up to the present time, $940,000. This is a fine sum to pay out in five years for the operation of an unsatisfactory law."

The cost of the Act did not influence Messrs. PRIOR and EARLE in voting to retain the iniquitous law. They prefer the law as it now stands, although it prohibits over one thousand qualified men in Victoria from voting, to the Provincial franchise law, which is based on universal suffrage, and which makes the way to registration so easy that any person can find it. As the Colonist seems to have in keeping the political consciences of our representatives, would the quidnunc who supplies the daily doles of political wisdom in its pages explain the reasons of Messrs. EARLE and PRIOR for voting against the wishes of the people of Victoria. Of course the Colonist knows their reason, for does it not know everything! Did our representatives vote against the repeal of the franchise law because they were party men, and because they owed allegiance to the Government? It should be remembered that during the late election campaign they both admitted that they had ascertained by actual experience that they did not possess sufficient backbone to give an independent vote now and then. It was, they said, impossible to be independent, and for their part they had decided to go the whole hog for the Government. In voting as they did on the franchise law, they were carrying out their pledges, and electors who voted for them have no right to complain. But we know about a thousand Canadians, who were denied the privilege of voting last March, who are not satisfied, and who will take advantage of the first opportunity afforded them to place their opinion on record. Ah, but there's the rub! Suppose EARLE and PRIOR never give them the opportunity? If there should be no revision of the voters' lists the submerged half will have no more influence than they had at the last election. And then, it will be remembered, the voice of the people was not the voice of the ballot box.

PROTECTION VS. WAGES.

The San Francisco Call, replying to a "free-trade contemporary" as to the effect of the abolition of the duty on English steel rails, observes that their introduction into the American market would compel the American manufacturer to either go out of business or reduce the cost of their product to the cost of the English product, which, of course, would necessitate the reduction of wages to the English standard. "The contention, observes the Call, "that the consumer should be at liberty at all times to buy in the cheapest market concentrates industries in countries where labor is the cheapest. Labor would then become the point upon which manufacturers would constantly experiment in their efforts to undersell each other. The inevitable consequence would be the reduction of wages to the lowest point consistent with the maintenance of the laborer in fit condition to work. The gradual increase in wages in the United States is one of the hopeful signs of the times."

Protectionist papers, cornered, invariably fall back on the question of wages in justification of their doctrine. It never occurs to them, apparently, that cheap production is possible by cutting down the dividends of the manufacturers. It is labor that must suffer that production shall be cheap. Of course we know that cheap labor is an important factor in cheap production, but is it fair in considering the proposition to reduce cost of production that labor should be marked as the first to suffer? May not the capitalist suffer too, or is he a personage so sacred that he must have his per cent whatever the consequence to labor? "The gradual increase of wages, observes the Call, "is one of the hopeful signs of the times," but, it goes on to say, "these can only be maintained by artificial increase on the cost of competing goods." Protection in the sense that the Call uses it has not been the cause of the gradual increase of wages in the United States. The gradual increase of wages in the States is owing almost wholly to the attitude of labor, which, by combining, and federating, compelled acquiesence to its demands. Only that American labor is in a position to dictate in a measure, wages would be as low as in Europe. Protection has contributed to some extent to the increase of wages, but the fact that in free trade England wages have increased makes it appear that the virtue in protection so far as the wage earner is concerned is not near as potent as protectionist papers would have us believe.

LIBERAL VICTORIES IN ENGLAND

About a month ago, Lord SALISBURY, in a speech at a public meeting, said that England was about to engage in a "miniature general election," for at that moment there were six seats vacant, and all of them in England. Curiously enough, all of the six seats were Tory seats, and Lord SALISBURY hoped they would not only all be retained by the Tory party, but by largely increased majorities, for was not the tide that was flowing a Tory tide? What has happened since he made such a boastful speech has spread terror and dismay in the Tory ranks. In London, in Mid-Oxfordshire, and in the small pocket borough of Whitehaven, the Tory party held their own, but in Dorsetshire their majority was reduced to 40, so Dorsetshire proved a great humiliation to them. In Leicestershire and in Suffolk the Gladstonians captured the seats, and these two victories will count four in the division list. Thus, then, in this "miniature general election" the Tories have lost a third of their seats, or 33 per cent., and so there is no more talk in the Tory ranks of a general election. Since these battles were lost and won, there has been a seventh election, as we learn by telegraph, also in England, in Lord Beaconsfield's county, Buckinghamshire, and there the Liberals have retained the seat by a majority immensely greater than at the last bye-election. At the general election the Buckinghamshire seat was held by a Tory, so it has gone Liberal at two bye-elections since then.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Prohibition seems destined to pass into the category of "has beens," and that not because temperance is not a good thing but because the Dominion cannot afford to lose the revenue derived from the sale of intoxicants. Mr. FOSTER estimates that prohibition would cost the Dominion $7,000,000 revenue, and these hard times with Hudson Bay railroads to subsidize and constituencies to bribe prohibition is simply inadmissible. There is one thing, however, which the Government might do, and that is, increase the tax on spirituous drinks. Expensive liquor means comparative temperance, because the more costly liquor is, the less can be drank, for the purchaser's money soon gives out. But we hear nothing of a proposition from Mr. FOSTER to increase the tax on liquors. It would have the effect of arraying the liquor interest against him, and he would be compelled to take the platform as a temperance lecturer again at $10 a night.

"Mr. JOHN HALLAM, the well known wool dealer in Toronto, says the Globe, has issued a circular to his agents and others informing them that in consequence of the McKinley tariff it will be necessary to pay lower prices for wool this year. The farmers will be docked two cents per pound, that being the amount of the addition made to the United States duty on the wool going into that country from this." And yet it is urged by the disciples of N.P., that protection is a good thing for Canada. If Canada might have protection and at the same time free access to American markets, the arrangement would be beautiful and all of us would be ready to swear by National Policy. But as the Americans persist in protection we have a condition of affairs in which nobody but the trader profits, or at least, does not lose anything. Does Mr. HALLAM propose to pay the duty on the wool he exports? Not at all. He will go out of the business first. It is the wool raiser who must pay the two cents a pound imposed by Uncle Sam's duty. A few more object lessons of this kind will reconcile Ontario to reciprocity by acclamation.

Montreal Gazette: Mr. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, the great oil producer, has ordered that in all his Ohio field wells the pumps must remain idle on Sundays. When the drift is more and more towards unnecessary Sunday work in every branch of business, cases like that of Mr. ROCKEFELLER deserve special honorable mention.

With regard to the last clause a great many people will have their doubts about it. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER is now in a position where he can afford to be virtuous. Secure in his $100,000,000, secure in the tremendous monopoly he wields, having reached the high altitude in human affairs where he can laugh at competition, he can now afford to observe the Sabbath day and keep it holy. But was JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER always so? While he was engaged in making his "pile," while he was devoting his energies to the "freezing out" of rival oil companies did JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER observe the Sabbath? In making his $100,000,000 millions did JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER observe the Golden Rule, even? We never heard that he did. In fact we know that he did not. No man can earn $100,000,000 in a quarter of a century and observe the Golden Rule! JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER'S wealth is damp with the tears of the men he has crushed, and perhaps it is stained with blood. Who shall say that the freezing out operations of JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER have not driven men to premature graves? But JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER has repented, and from his lofty pinnacle of sanctity, is not longer amenable to the laws which govern the bread and butter of ordinary men, and he ordains that his "pumps" must remain idle on Sundays. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER'S Sabbatarian propensities deserve honorable mention, indeed!

A telephone message was received from Bonilla Point on Saturday evening stating that either the U. S. revenue cutter Bear or the Rush had passed up. Which one it was could not be ascertained but either would be on her way to Behring Sea.

Board of Trade Council.

The council of the Board of Trade met this afternoon at 4 o'clock to receive the report of the by-laws committee, to discuss matters relating to the printing of the annual report, and to transact other business coming before the regular council meeting.

Shuswap & Okanagon Railroad.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Shuswap & Okanagon Railway Company will be held at the office of Mr. Charles Wilson on Thursday next, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of general business

No Music.

There was no music at the Park yesterday afternoon, and there was not as large an attendance. There is a split in the Aldermanic Board as to whether the $500 was voted for Sunday or other music at the Park. It is probable that the vote will be rescinded next Wednesday night.

Sleeping in the Park.

A gang of men have during the last few nights made Beacon Hill their lodging place, contrary to the laws of the city. Sergt. Hawton paid a visit out there last evening, but did not take action, preferring to wait and see if the men could not get work on the sewers, which they are anxious to do.

Cemetery Returns.

There were 29 burials at Ross Bay during May, as follows: Whites 23, Chinese 5, and one Indian. Four deaths were caused by accidents, one found drowned and one suicide. The record for May since 1888 is: 1888, 28; 1889, 18; and 1890, 14.

Merited Success.

Messrs. Morrow, Holland & Co., having found their present premises too small for their increasing business, have leased one of the new stores on Broad street (next to Yates), and are having it handsomely fitted up. This firm started on a small scale, but by good fair dealing have won that confidence that ensures success.

Cleanliness Next to Godliness.

The supreme thing in a house after a good kitchen and a good cook, is a good, well lighted bath-room, with a large, roomy bath. Porcelain baths are becoming very popular just now, and the solid handsome ones manufactured by Twyford in England, and imported only by Braden & Staniford, Fort street, are the best article. Quite a number have found their way into the fine new homes now being built

Took no Notice of Her.

The American customs officials seem to have tired of seizing the tug Pilot for alleged infractions of the towing laws. Yesterday she returned from Tacoma where she went with the ship Talisman which she picked up at Flattery. The officers over the Sound took no more notice of her than if she was flying the American flag. She left this morning for Nanaimo to take the bark General Fairchild to sea.

The R.C. Ladies' Bazaar.

The bazaar to be given by the ladies of the Roman Catholic congregation this year promises to excel in every respect those of former years. Great preparations are going forward for the event, a secret chamber being kept in every home, wherein none can enter save the privileged ones who are making articles which will astonish the eye when they are given full publicity. The 10th and 11th June are fixed for the occasion.

Her Crank Pin Cracked.

The steamer City of Kingston did not leave for the Sound last evening as shortly after her arrival on Saturday afternoon Chief Engineer Lent discovered that the crank pin of her engine was cracked. The break will occasion a lay over at this port for three or four days, although the Albion Iron Works went to work immediately to make a new one. Either the City of Seattle or one of the company's other boats will be over to take her place.

Two Drunks Suffer.

Messrs. W. Dalby, and R. McMicking, J.'s P., sat in the police court this morning and sent two old time drunks, Dan Apples and Annie, an Indian woman, to jail for one month each. Ed. Paugum, charged with threatening to kill his wife, was remanded until to-morrow.

Should be Stopped.

After the sitting of the police court this morning R. McMicking, J. P., called the attention of the superintendent of police to the fact that men were in the habit of driving a great deal too fast through the streets. He said he had on one occasion seen a man almost run over a lady and then turn around and laugh at her fright.

A Large Block.

Mr. Wm. Croft has disposed of his lease of the property facing Douglas street and running from Fort to View streets. The purchasers are English capitalists who will, it is understood, start the erection of a large brick building on the property as soon as possible. Mr. Croft is still in possession of the Fort street corner but the building will also be but up there.

Started to Work.

Mr. Fred'k. J. Claxton and Mr. J. E. Boss, returned this morning from Barclay Sound. They took up a foreman and a gang of men whom they put to work on the Selhart quicksilver mine, which is being worked by a company whom they represent. Mr. Claxton says so far the mine is very promising but it will be a month yet before anything difinite is known.

Our Friends of the Dominion.

Toronto is often called the most American of the cities of Canada. This is because its business streets look like those of one of our towns and because the people are enterprising and speculative. In reality Victoria, B.C., is the city whose people are most like ours and most in sympathy with us. They keep the Fourth of July in Victoria, and they display our flag along with theirs. They sell us the coal we use on the Pacific Coast, and go to San Francisco when they want to see the elephant.—N.Y. Sun.

Summer Picnics.

The Sunday School of the Gorge Road Methodist Church will hold their annual picnic at Pedder Bay on Dominion Day. The steamer Princess Louise has been chartered for the occasion. Hitherto the schools of the Gorge Road and Pandora Avenue Churches have gone together on their annual picnics, but owing to a desire on the part of some to go by boat to some place, and others being desirous of traveling by rail, there will be separate picnics this year, but it is open to members of both to travel with either party.

Funds Needed.

Mr. Chas. Kent, the treasurer the Queen's Birthday celebration committee, speaking to-day said that a great many people of city had not been met by members of the finance committee, and consequently had contributed nothing to the fund collected. All these people enjoyed the celebration sports, and as a shortage of cash to meet the expenses incurred exists, Mr. Kent trusts that those who have not as yet contributed will do so. Any amounts sent in will be acknowledged by him, and a dollar or two will hurt no one.

The Bellingham Bay Express.

All arrangements for placing a train service on the C.P.R. Mission Sumas branch, and thence to Whatcom over the Bellingham Bay and British Columbia Railway, have been completed and a time working card will shortly be issued. There will be a round trip made daily. The south bound train will leave Vancouver at 10 o'clock in the morning and will be designated the Bellingham Bay express. Returning it will reach Vancouver in the evening. Direct daily connection will be made at Whatcom with the Premier and another vessel for all Sound ports, Portland and San Francisco.

The Onderdonk Arbitration

The celebrated case of the C.P.R. vs. the Government, in connection with the Onderdonk section, is at last concluded, that is, so far as counsel are concerned. All the evidence was in Friday, whereupon the Hon. Edward Blake addressed the court for the company, and Mr. B. Blackstock continued on the same side Saturday. Mr. Osler then opened the case for the Government, being followed by Mr. Robinson. Mr. Blake then made the final reply. The arbitrators will continue their deliberations, but most of the legal fraternity will return at once to their homes in the east. Several of these gentlemen left by Saturday's east bound train in the private car Cumberland.

Herrmann.

Herrmann, the greatest of all prestidigitateurs, aided by Mme Herrmann and a corps of assistants, will be the attraction at the Victoria to-night. He has for several years been giving an exhibition of necromancy that is as fascinating as it is baffling. He announces this season a most wonderful exhibition, including a number of startling illusions and sensations. One of these is his latest and greatest effort, "Strobeika," which is based upon a Russian romance, one of the salient features of which is the escape from prison of a young officer of the guard, Ivan Ivanhoff, through the ingenuity of his fiancee, "Strobeika," who, in some manner, obtained admission to his cell, loosed his shackles and chains, and herself assumed them, keeping up the delusion till Ivan was safely away. In Herrmann's illusion the substitution of "Strobeika" for the manacled prisoner, chained to the plank by the committee, from the audience, is much more difficult than was the original "Strobeika's" brave and ingenious trick.

Withdrawn from the Route.

Capt. McCahill, of Spratt's wharf, received a dispatch this afternoon saying the Emma would be withdrawn from the East coast route. The Emma is entirely inadequate for the business, and so the company intend to build a large one.

A Quiet Wedding.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the residence of Rev. C. Watson on Saturday evening, the principals being Mr. E. B. Tuohy, of Chicago, and Miss Florence Watson Moody, eldest daughter of the late Sue Moody of this city. The happy couple leave to-morrow evening for San Francisco, via Tacoma.

A Family Disturbance.

The married life of E. and Sadie Pauburn has not, during the last few days, been a happy one. The former became jealous of the latter, his wife, last week. To assure himself, either of her honesty or dishonesty, he stated that he intended to leave for the Sound on Friday evening, but failed to catch the boat. Returning home, and quietly going into the room occupied by his wife, he found it empty. He, however, did not go into a flurry, but quietly waited for the truth of the case to expose itself. It was daylight when the wife returned, and then came the words that lead to a case in the police court this morning. The charge was laid by the wife, who says her husband threatened to kill her.

Sealers Still Talking.

Sealers are still discussing the bill introduced into the Imperial Parliament. They say that if it is legal to legislate in this way, a man before he shoots at a duck or catches a fish must first ascertain whether the duck or fish came into existence on the American coast, and is therefore the property of the United States. The claim made is that the seals were bred on the Islands, and the question is asked why does'nt Russia, who has some of the largest rookeries in the world, protect the seals that are bred there after they leave the rookeries. An inconsistency is pointed out in the case of the Halcyon. She is known to have openly contravened the United States law, but she lies safely in the harbor here free from molestation till she enters the territorial waters of the United States. She can't even be taken on the high seas, while the United States seizes Canadian vessels one hundred miles from shore and confiscates them, for what?—taking seals on the high seas.

Lord Stephen of——,

Referring to the granting of a peerage to Sir Geo. Stephen, it is well-known that another prominent promoter of the C.P.R., was offered a title when Mr. Geo. Stephen was made a baronet, and again when Mr. Donald Smith was made Sir Donald, but the offers were declined.

The adopted daughter of Sir Stephen married Mr. Stafford Northcote, who afterwards became Lord St. Cyres, and then again on the death of his father, Earl Iddesleigh, (better known as Sir Stafford Northcote) he became Earl Iddesleigh, so Lady Stephen becomes a peeress a good many years after her adopted daughter. Almost the last official act of Mr. Gladstone was to make the then Lord St. Cyres, now Earl Iddesleigh, a permanent official in the Inland Revenue Office, Somerset House, with a salary of £1500 or $7500 a year for life. This was an unusual act towards a political opponent, and reflected great credit on Mr. Gladstone, for the Northcote family in all its connections—except Canadian—is very poor.

The Recital To-Morrow Night.

There was a spirit of heartiness in the service at St. John's Church last evening that was more than gratifying. The choir mustered its full force and the organ spoke grandly. A large congregation was present; a number of whom no doubt went in the expectation of hearing Mr. Harriss play the vaunntary and offertary, but owing to some unexpected previous engagement Mr. Harriss was unable to be present. To-morrow evening, however, the boy Frederick Williams and Mr. Harriss, will both be here, and judging from the amount of public interest manifested, there will be a grand congregation to listen to a grand musical event.

The following is the programme to which the congregation will be treated to-morrow evening, and lovers of fine, as well as fascinating music, will see that an exquisite treat is in store:

FINAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Eminent New York Optician Leaves for the East in a Few Days

And will Stop for a Short Time at Nanaimo and the Mainland Cities.

Mr. Seward regrets the necessity of his leaving Victoria while there are so many anxious to see him. His office will remain open an hour later each day during the remaining few days of his stay so as to accomodate as many as possible.

A large number of letters of gratitude have been received showing the grand result of the work done here, which has never been equalled before. Mr. Seward has proved his claim to be just, namely, as an expert optitian. He is second to no one in America.

Dr. McNaughton Jones, Dr. Milne, Postmaster N. Shakespeare, Collector A. R. Milne, and hundreds of others now wearing Mr. Seward's glasses speak of the work in the highest terms.

A record of the test and degree of the glasses given in each case is kept on the books for future reference, so that in case of accident, any person can have their glasses duplicated by addressing Prof. F. D. Seward, box 3,567, New York.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

THE GOVERNMENT MAJOPITY IS PLACED AT TWENTY-SEVEN.

A Defeat for the Government on the Prohibition Question—All Things in Parliament Centre Towards McGreevyism—What Mr. Tarte Says.

From Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 23.—Another week of the session of Parliament is over and during that time the Government has been both sustained and defeated; the latter resolution, however, was not a want of confidence motion although put by the Government. The strength of the Government has been placed at 28 of a majority and at no time with a full House is it likely to reach 30. All bets, however, will have to be decided on 27 of a majority, which was the first division in the new Parliament. The question was the repeal of the Dominion Franchise on the motion of Mr. Cameron (Huron). Many Conservatives are opposed to the Franchise Act, but in this instance stood by their party so as to swell up the majority to its largest proportions. The vote was unprecedented. All the Conservatives elected to Parliament either voted or were paired. There were two absentees, who were not paired, Mr. Langelier, Quebec, and Mr. Savard, Chicoutimi. The former is a leading Liberal, and the latter, who defeated Sir Adolphe Caron, is placed in the doubtful list. He would certainly support the Liberals, but the inducement of having the protest against his return stopped if he supports the Government is being held out to him. Whether he will yield or not remains to be seen. In the first vote Mr. Robillard, of Ottawa, did not arrive in the chamber in time to hear the question put so he could not vote. Had he done so the vote would have been 28 of a majority instead of 27. On the main motion Mr. German, of Welland, Liberal, was in a similar position. Had it been otherwise the vote would have been again 28 instead of 29 as recorded. The two absentees I give Langelier, about whom nobody has any doubt, to the Liberals and Savard, for argument sake to the Tories, would be left at 28. Taite voted with the government, but no one believes that he did so for other reasons than it would be policy to do so in view of the charges he has levelled against Sir Hector Langevin and Mr. McGreevy. The member for Montmorency has time and again asserted that he was a Conservative and that his attack on the minister of public works and the member for Quebec was not made through political motives. In my humble judgment, he will be found voting with the Conservatives on only very rare occassions. It may be said that a good deal of money changed hands on the first vote, the Government supporters betting on 30 and over of a majority, as well as a majority in the Province of Quebec. In both instances they have lost these bets. A majority of the two old provinces of the Dominion taking them together, declared, as I on frequent occassions said they would, in favor of the Liberals and the policy they espouse. During the Jesuit estate vote there were some 14 absentees, and no pairs, while on this vote there were only two absentees not paired. There were six pairs, which made 14 absentees in all.

DEFEATED IN PROHIBITION.

The question on which the Government met with a defeat was that of prohibition, and the issue was of their own selection. Mr. Jameson's resolution declaring in favor of a prohibitory liquor law was reached three or four times during the session but at the instigation of the Government it was always allowed to stand. At last Mr. Jameson, through pressure on the part of the temperance people, put his resolution. Mr. Coatsworth, the newly elected member from Toronto, and some other Conservatives talked the resolution out. It was again reached on the order paper when Mr. Mackintosh moved for a select committee to enquire into the financial aspects of the case. To this Dr. Sproule moved an amendment to the amendment that the debate be adjourned. His resolution which was supported by all the ministers and every Conservative in the House, save Mr. Jameson, was lost by a majority of 9 amidst the cheers of the Liberals and the cries of "resign." The Tory whips were afterwards sent in all directions to drum up the faithful, and after breaking up a couple of dinners and social parties a similar motion was put by Mr. Gillies and was carried by 18 of a majority. The main resolution will likely be reached again this week and an attempt will be made to carry Mr. Mackintosh's amendment for a committee.

If there is one question more than another which the Tories have dilly-dallied with it is that of prohibition. The Liberals to a man voted against shirking the question. Mr. Foster, of course, voted with the liquor party, although the temperance people made him what he is.

THE M'GREEVY-LANGEVIN SCANDAL.

This is the common centre to which all issues seem to run, and so it will remain until the matter is disposed of in some manner or another. Sir Hector Langevin has prejudiced his case badly by his delaying to bring down the papers from his department which were ordered by the committee on privileges and elections. Some ten days or more have elapsed since this order was passed, and not until to-day were any of the papers forthcoming. The most important documents have not yet been produced. Since this matter was brought before the House in its dying days last session, and it was the one issue on which Mr. Tarte fought his election, there can be no excuse for the Minister of Public Works in endeavoring to delay the work of the committee. Had he served his own interests best—that is providing always he is innocent of the charges—he would have had all the documents ready to be placed on the table of the House the moment they were ordered. To say the least of it, it is highly unseemly to see a minister of the Crown in charge of the most important part of the proof of the crimes with which he is charged, and most public men would have preferred to have resigned their position temporarily or exchanged departments with one of their colleagues, so that the investigation ordered might be allowed full scope of action. Since the minister has chosen to act otherwise he should see for his own sake that his innocence was as speedily proved as possible, instead of being open to the charge that he is handicapping the committee.

MR. POOLEY'S SALARY.

When the main item for the Public Works Department came up on the estimates objection was at once raised that the salary of Mr. Pooley, the chief engineer, should not be passed until the case was disposed of by the committee on privileges and elections. The matter was under discussion for the greater part of one afternoon, and afterwards another evening, the resolution being finally adopted. Sir Hector Langevin's argument was that Mr. Pooley should not be decapitated until he was tried. To this and to the charge of the letters being forged Mr. Tarte made the following reply:

Mr. Tarte—"Mr. Chairman, I do not wish to decapitate anyone before all the evidence which I possess is produced against him. It is not forged evidence, but the evidence of genuine letters which I now hold in my hands. But, sir, holding in my hands at this present moment, not forged letters, but genuine letters from an hon. member of this Parliament, I think that I am justified in saying that this House should not proceed too quickly in voting a salary for a man who is not accused by me, but by another hon. member. It is no use saying that those letters are forgeries; they are not forgeries. It is no use saying, as I know it has been said, that I was a party to a conspiracy. That statement is an unmitigated falsehood. The hon. Minister of Public Works stated a minute ago that Mr. Perley gave up his position as chief engineer of the harbor commission in Quebec, and later on, he said that he was not quite sure of this fact. When such an important officer resigns such an important commission it seems to me that the hon. Minister of Public Works is in a position to state before this Parliament that he has been informed that Mr. Perley has given up his position as chief engineer of the harbor commission at Quebec. If it be so, let the correspondence be brought down as soon as possible. Again, sir, let it be understood that I quite agree with the hon. Minister when he says that we do not wish—not one of us wish it I am sure—to be unjust towards anyone. If Mr. Perley is not a guilty man—and I hope he is not guilty—I will be the first to state so before this Parliament if he is pronounced innocent. But if he has given information which the hon. member for Quebec West (Mr. McGreevy) has stated he has given, if the letters which are now in my possession, and which I now hold in my hands, and which the hon. Minister may see whenever he likes, immediately if he wishes—if these letters are true, then this man is a guilty man indeed.

Some hon. Members.—Read the letters.

Mr. Tarte—No sir; if the Prime Minister tells me to read, I will read, but I believe we should wait for the action of the committee. Although I am quite prepared to read now, yet I remember that the matter has been sent for report to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. I have not only one letter, be it remembered. I believe, sir, that, if I am not mistaken, two and two make four. I have about 50 letters from the hon. member for Quebec West (Mr. McGreevy). If these letters are forgeries, then forgers for a long time indeed. I say again, these are not forgeries; these are genuine letters, and these letters prove, if they are true, that from year to year, from week to week, during the session of Parliament, and almost from day to day, a member of this House has received the most private information from Mr. Perley. The hon. Minister of Public Works has himself a deep interest that this correspondence shall be brought down as soon as possible, but I may state for his information that his name has from day to day been dragged into contempt by the hon. member to whom I refer. More than this, if we are to believe that these letters are true, we are face to face with nothing less than high crimes. Again I say that I was justified in asking, if it is not against the public interest, that this item should stand until we have evidence that Mr. Perley is either guilty or not guilty. If he is guilty we would not be justified in voting one cent for his salary. I do not ask that this item should stand, if it would be of injury to the public interest, but if it is not against the public interest it seems to me we can allow it to stand, in view of the fact that an enquiry is about to be made in a very short time."—SIAMROWN.

What it Costs

Must be carefully considered by the great majority of people, in buying even necessities of life. Hood's Sarsaparilla commends itself with special force to the great middle classes, because it combines positive economy with great medicinal power. It is the only medicine of which can truly be said "100 Doses One Dollar," and a bottle taken according to directions will average to last a month.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

The Accident on the C. P. R. Last Week—Wholesale Destruction of Live Stock.

In its account of last week's accident on the C.P.R., the Kootenay Star says: Not the slightest danger was expected, and the train was running at a good rate over a comparatively level stretch. There was nothing to indicate that the bridge had been burnt down, the rails remaining intact across the chasm, and it was not until a few yards from it that the engineer discovered that the supports were burnt away. It was to late to attempt to stop the train or even jump. The four who were injured were on the engine at the time of the accident, Irwin being engaged in sweeping in front of the fire box when the crash came. In less than a second the engine had almost cleared the gap, but the rails gave way beneath the weight, being bent and crimped like wire, and two stock cars, two flat cars, and two box cars were hurled upon it, and the unfortunate men, Conductor McDonald, Brakeman Carter, F. McCarty, and a drover from Brandon, who were in the caboose, were thrown down by the shock, but hastened out to the wreck to render what assistance they could.

Of the sixteen cattle not one was saved and eleven horses perished, while six others got off with slight injuries. The six cars referred to were mostly demolished into splinters. The tender is a complete wreck while the engine is void of mountings and pilot. It is supposed a spark from the wood train of the previous evening set fire to the bridge, as there is no timber around from which it could catch in any other way, and it was altogether a most unlikely place for an accident.

KOOTENAY ITEMS.

A Steamer Disappears—Tug of War—The Lardeau Coming to the Front.

From the Kootenay Star.]

George Laforme came down from the Big Bend with his pack train yesterday. He reports that la grippe got a hold of all the men up there and they had a hospital time generally. He was very ill himself, but is now almost himself again.

The little steamer Marion suddenly disappeared on Wednesday night, and whether she is at the bottom of the river or floating down to Sproat is a matter of conjecture. She was tied up below the Lytton to a large stump. The river undermined this stump and while a watchman ran for a rope to get another line on the boat, she broke away from her moorings and disappeared in the darkness or water.

At the celebrations on Monday a tug of war between sides picked by Mr. J. M. Kellie, M. P., and Chas. Landmark, was a hard tussel, and the latter's team was highly elated with victory. It remained, however, for the ladies to humble them in the dust, and this they did with the grace of polished dissemblers. Seven of the stronger sex thought they had a soft thing to outpull fourteen of the ladies. The pull began and thirteen ladies looked anxiously toward their captain at the end of the line. She was equal to the occasion and pucked her lips to whistle. That was all that was necessary, and the twenty-eight fair hands let go as one, and seven men rolled over in the dust amid the derisive cheers of the assembled crowd.

John Stauber came up from the Lardeau on Monday, bringing with him a quantity of furs, the result of a couple of months' trapping and hunting. Among his pack was one silver-tip bear pelt, which measured over 9 feet across in any direction. The bear was not very fat, but weighed fully 400 pounds. Mr. Stauber says he is satisfied the Lardeau will come to the front, now that a trail is being cut through it, and expects to see 100 prospectors in there this fall. He has located seven ledges, and Mr. Hoskins has as many more, assays from samples of which give as good returns as any in the country, while the placer diggings of the Lardeau are new, and what work has been done on them has given excellent results. Mr. Stauber taking out last fall, by the most primitive methods, sixteen ounces in six weeks. There are some good lands through the pass, and several small farms have been taken up at Trout and Summit lakes.

MISSING MONEY FOUND.

Rose Light Thrown Upon the Meldram Robbery Case.

The police have now a still stronger chain of evidence against Burmudiz, the man recently sent up for trial for robbing Jas. W. Meldram's saloon. Yesterday a man who rented the cabin formerly occupied by Bermudiz, picked up an old pair of shoes that were lying around with the intention of throwing them away. He, however, knowing of the missing money searched the old pair of shoes when he found two bills, a ten and a five. He took them out to Mr. Meldram when that gentlemen identified them as two that were stolen from him, they being badly torn and almost unpassable.

Thomas, Burmudiz's partner, is still missing although known to be somewhere around Saanich. Sergt. Walker went out there on Saturday and visited all the farm houses but did not find his man although he ascertained that he had been staying with the Indians for several days. The police hope to see him get a little bold and make his appearance in town again.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World, Here and Elsewhere.

CYCLING.

There probably never was a time when cycling was more spiritedly followed out in Victoria than at present. There seems to be a large variety of makes or styles, the Special, the Rudge, the Rover, the Brantford. The last claimant to popular favor is the Psycho, which is heralded with high racing honors from eastern tracks, and will enter competition with ether styles for the supremacy in Victoria.

THE GUN.

THE UNION GUN CLUB'S SHOOT.

There was some pretty shooting of the Union Gun Club, and consequently the scores were all close. The follow were the seven best scores made:

A. R. Langley	16
— Hewlings	16
H. N. Short	15
F. Higgins	13
R. Short	13
J. M. Langley	14
A. R. Gray	14
